

URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND BUILT ENVIRONMENT TRAINING, 25-27 MAY 2021

Online Training using Microsoft Teams

Manatū Hauora (Ministry of Health) has asked SMS Training to create a new training course for the purpose of training PHS staff in the concepts of Urban Development and Built Environments so they can incorporate these into their daily activities. The course will be held over three days online, running from 8.30am to around 2.30pm daily.

Whilst public health statutory officers (such as HPOs or MOoH) usually attend these type of courses, PHU managers may also want to think about making it available to policy, planning, or programme delivery staff who could also benefit from attending. Such staff may be working on urban development or built environment issues and can have an important role a working alongside public health officers to ensure that public health considerations are front of mind in local and regional level urban development and built environment work.

AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE COURSE GRADUATES WILL HAVE AN APPRECIATION AND UNDERSTANDING OF:

- Planning, Urban Development and Built Environment concepts
- Legislation and policy updates including the RMA reforms, NPS-UD, how policy development works and the role of Health as an inter-sectorial partner
- RMA Review
- Alert System for RMA Submissions
- Equity and Te Tiriti, including Whakamaua and Ola Manuia
- Population Vulnerability including social vulnerability for natural hazards
- Healthy Families update and case studies
- Communications with stakeholders
- Climate Change and Wellbeing, including the Carbon Neutral Government Programme and Green Buildings
- Transport and Wellbeing, including collaboration with Waka Kotahi (NZTA), Active Transport
- Housing and Wellbeing, including Healthy Homes, results from the Census and the Environmental Health Intelligence NZ Programme

THE COURSE STRUCTURE WILL PROVIDE FOR:

- A variety of expert speakers
- Case studies
- Research findings
- Policy updates

COURSE FEE:

Attendance is subsidised for up to two attendees per PHS, except for four from Auckland and three each from Wellington and Canterbury. As this is an online course applications for additional attendees will be considered.
